COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN TUESDAY

by Roberta McNamara and Barbara Likowski

The Prince Georges County Public Schools will re-open on Tuesday, Sept. 6; 184 school days have been scheduled.

Projected enrollment for this fall will be 8,000 kindergarten, 62,016 elementary and 69,570 secondary pupils. While this is a decline of 4,946 from last year, the school system remains the tenth largest in the nation.

Special attention this year is being paid to the teaching of reading skills at the intermediate grade levels and extending it to grade 7 in the junior high. The senior high English program was extended last year to require grammar and composition courses in each grade. This year certain required courses in literature will be added.

Starting Times

The starting times for most schools will remain the same as last year. However, some starting times are earlier in response to complaints of parents and students who found the times inconvenient. The late starting times interfered with student desire for afternoon jobs and parents' need for students to care for younger siblings. Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School will continue its last year's hours: 9:30 a.m. - 4:15 p.m.

As for junior high schools, Greenbelt Jr. High hours will be 8:50 a.m. to 3:20 p.m.; Kent Jr. High, 9:30 a.m .to 4 p.m.; Mary Bethune Jr. High, 7:50 a.m. to 2:20 p.m.

The time for Greenbelt Center School will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Greenbelt North End, 9:35 a.m. to 3:35 p.m.; John Carroll, 8:15 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.; Magnolia, 9:08 a.m. to 3:08 p.m.; Oakcrest, 9:08 a.m. to 3:08 pm. and Springhill Lake, 9:08 a.m. to 3:08 p.m.

All students who ride buses are asked to be at bus stops 10 minutes earlier than the scheduled pick-up time.

Eleanor Roosevelt students living in Springhill Lake and assigned to Route #476 leave at 9 a.m. (Cherrywood Ct. & Cherrywood Lane). Students assigned to Route #474 leave Breezewood Drive & Springhill Lane at 9 am. and Springhill Dr. at 9:03 Route #499: Springhill Lane at 9 a.m.

Route #491, Ridge & Research at 7:10 a.m. and Ridge & Crescent at 7:15 a.m.

Kindergartners going to John Carroll in the afternoon must be at the stops by 11 a.m.

Glen Oaks students going to Center School leave at 8:35 a.m.; Greenbriar at 8:40.

Lunch

The cost of lunch for elementary schools is 50c and for secondary schools, 55c. Milk is 10c.

Applications for free or reduced lunch will be sent home the first week of school. Some foster children are counted as a family of one and may be eligible for the program.

State law requires school attendance by every child between the ages of 6 and 16. Children who will be five years old on or before January 1, 1978 may attend kindergarten this fall. Parents registering their children for kindergarten or to begin school in Prince Georges County for the first time should have their child's birth certificate, proof of residence (deed to home or lease to apartment) and their children's immunization records with them at the time of registration.

Name Needed for Elderly Residence

by Ottilie Van Allen

The Advisory Committee on Housing for the Elderly is looking for an appropriate name for the elderly housing building planned for the Ridge Road site. Contracts are about to be let for the construction of the 100 unit building, and the Greenbelt City Council wants to have a name to use in the legal papers for the facility. With the present time-table, construction could begin this fall, and completion may be even earlier than the previously set date of August 1979.

The name might honor a former or present Greenbelt citizen who has made a notable contribution to the general welfare. Any suggestions will be appreciated and can be dropped off at the city offices in the Municipal Building.

Council Supports Regional Solid Waste Disposal Plan

City Council at its August 8 meeting agreed with the Health and Environmental Protection Policy Committee of the Council of Governments which Councilman Thomas X. White chairs, to go on record in support of the concept that the total Metropolitan Washington area be identified as a regional area for implementation of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976.

Under this act the governors of the States of Maryland and Virginia and the mayor of the District of Columbia will meet to determine whether the various jurisdictions in the Washington metropolitan area are to be considered completely independent from each other in their responsibilities for the disposal and recycling of solid wastes, or as one metropolitan region.

In discussing the issue, White explained that the jurisdictions within the Washington Metropolitan Region already cooperate in COG, and that if each jurisdiction duplicated efforts to recycle its own solid wastes, the project could not be done successfully because there are not enough customers in the region to consume all of the recycled products. If certain existing facilities were earmarked, however, as being a facility for the whole region, these facilities could support themselves financially on what they earn selling their recycled wastes. In other words, if each jurisdiction duplicated the recycling efforts of its neighboring jurisdiction, none of the recycling plants could earn enough income to make their operation self-sustaining.

BOXWOOD BOWLERS

Bowlers are needed for the Boxwood Mixed League which starts its season on Sept. 10. Interested persons are urged to call Walter Wight, 474-2556.

HOLIDAY REFUSE SCHEDULE

There will be no paper collection on Wednesday. An effort will be made to pick up all paper on Thursday. Refuse collection for Friday and Saturday will follow the normal schedule.

The Art Show will be judged by two local artists. Bette Valenti is the Visual Arts Specialist for the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission. She is the director of the Capital Gallery at the Capital Centre. Primarily a painter, she also is an arts administrator with training in the United States, Chile, Madagascar and Australia.

Joseph Mayer, a second judge, is an art instructor and former head of the Art Dept. at Prince Georges Community College. He formerly taught high school and has been art director for several establishments. His M.FA is in printmaking from Catholic Univ., but he is primarily a water colorist, having studied with Edgar Whitney. His work has been exhibited at the Vierhoff, Corcoran and Baltimore Museum.

Judging will take place Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.; awards will be presented Sunday evening, 8 p.m., at the Festival stage. For further information, contact Toni Foster, 474-0347.

Students from Bobbe's School of Dance will perform a variety act on the stage at 2 p.m. Saturday. Tap, ballet, gymnastics, Hawaiian, jazz, Tahitian song and dance routines will be featured.

Long Distance Races

One of the oldest races in the Washington area has been the 15 kilometer (9.3 mile) race through the Streets of Greenbelt and the Agricultural Farm as part of the Labor Day Festival. Last year about 200 men, women and children were in this long race and the same number in the 3 kilometer (1.75 mile) race around the lake.

Both races on Sunday, Sept. 4 will start at Braden Field at 6:30 p.m. and finish there. Runners are urged to sign up at least one hour early at the Youth Center. All Greenbelters who finish will receive an award. There is a fee for both races. Alexander Barnes 474-5310 is the race director.

The course record for the 15 kilo is 47 minutes, 45.4 seconds set back in 1973 by Jack Fultz of Georgetown University who later won the Boston Marathon in 1976.

Variety Show

A special event for Monday is a musical variety act performed by members of Gallaudet College, a school for the deaf and physically handicapped. The variety show will be simultaneously translated in American sign language.

Appreciation Party

All participants in the Labor Day Festival — those who work on the parade, in the booths, at the carnival, or whatever — are invited to the Festival Appreciation Party on Friday, September 16, at 8:30 p.m. A live band will entertain and photographs of this year's Festival will be shown. Plan now to attend.

CORRECTION

Because of a smudge in the printing, the telephone number for Robert Phillips in his campaign advertisement for city council may have been misunderstood. The correct number is 345-3038.

Help North End Book Month

Volunteers are desperately needed to work in the North End PTA book booth at the Labor Day Festival. Anyone who can help is urged to call Sylvia Lichvar, 474-9458. Books may be brought to Twin Pines and the Co-op Supermarket only until 4 p.m. Friday. Books also may be donated directly to the book booth during the festival — until Sunday.

THANKS

To the Editor:

I have often heard it said that words are inadequate to express either your thoughts or thanks. I never knew that these words were as meaningful as they are now to us. Our daughter, Mrs. Donna J. Hardman, was injured in an automobile accident in Greenbelt on July 19, 1977 We flew into Washington National Airport that night and were met at the plane by a Greenbelter who took us to Donna's apartment. The next day we were expecting to rent a car but, were told that a car pool had been formed and we would be taken anywhere we needed to go at any time. We were taken to the hospital by members of the Mowatt United Methodist Church several times without charge. During our stay we were never in need of anything that wasn't provided many times over. One man came to the apartment and took Donna's flowers to his home to keep them until she could return. Everyone asked about her. One man offered blood if it was needed and many said prayers in her behalf, even some not used to doing so.

A special commendation is offered to State Policeman M. Dorsey for his quick thinking in getting help. Also, to the emergency squad of Greenbelt. Greenbelt Realty, where Donna works, helped tremendously in making arrangements.

Although Donna does not remember anything about the accident or her stay in the University of Maryland hospital or her flight to a Parkersburg, West Virginia hospital in an air ambulance she is getting along fine now. As many of you know she is in a body cast with both legs broken but she says that she is thankful that this is all that is wrong with her. For the lack of space and the fear of missing someone's name we are not going to mention any names. The ones who have helped, and they are many, will know who they are.

Donna is now in a hospital at Spencer, West Virginia which, is close to our home. She has received almost two hundred letters and cards from the people there. Any other correspondence to her should be sent in care of us. Many thanks to everyone in Greenbelt. It sure is a nice place.

More Adult Behavior

To the Editor:

In reply to Nancy Robinson's letter of August 25, I would also like to thank the adults in the Greenbelt Little League. Unlike Nancy Robinson, I am very grateful to the adults who work so hard to make the Little League work. I want to thank them for the parents' and coaches' softball game that was by no means a "Drunken Fiasco," for the many hours the coaches spend each week with the children, time taken away from their families, for the concern all these men display for all the boys and girls on the teams, and for teaching the basics of being a team and working together. In return the coaches have the friendship and respect of the children, certainly not fear, as Nancy Robinson suggests.

The remarks made by children at play should be considered childish remarks, and should not upset a mature, well-adjusted adult.

In closing, let me say, THANK GOD FOR ADULT BEHAVIOR!

Madeleine Keifline

Donate Time

To the Editor:

In response to Mrs. Robinson's letter in the August 25 News Review. With the large number of children taking part in organized sports in Greenbelt and the few adult volunteers that are willing to help, incidents are bound to happen which are regrettable. The way to help stop these incidents is to get involved with these programs. There is not a Youth Group in Greenbelt who has not had items in the News Review begging for help.

Mrs Robinson, how often have you volunteered your time? The Youth Groups are willing to take your criticism, but are you willing to donate time to help stop these incidents? We don't need one without the other

Remember Korean And Vietnam Vets

To the Editor:

Is there any good reason why the City of Greenbelt cannot afford to add the names of its citizens who were killed fighting in the Korean and Viet Nam Wars to our War Memorial?

I don't want to sound like a super-patriot, but it does seem to me that whether we approve of war or not, whether we approve of a particular war or not, life is sacred. These were young people. They died representing the sovereignty of the United States, and I find that it matters to me that we do not put their names on the memorial.

It is precisely because I do not like wars that I want to see them remembered.

Labor Day Festival Parade Begins Monday's Activities

by Sandra Barnes

The 23rd annual Greenbelt Labor Day Parade begins a day of special events for the Festival. Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen, to be announced at Opening Ceremonies Friday evening, will lead off the event as parade marshal.

Marching in the parade will be the Maryland-National Capital Park Police Mounted Color Guard, Twinkie the Kid, the Greenbelt Marching Kazoo Band, the U.S. Naval Ceremonial Guard, U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps, Huff and Puff from the Lung Association of Southern Maryland, American Legion Post 136 Senior Color Guard and Auxiliary Unit with its Junior, Senior Color Guards and Poppy Misses, the Patuxent Martial Musick group, the U.S. Army Band, and the Decorated Bicycles and Tricycles.

Majorette groups will include The Dynamics, the Riverdale Majorettes, and the Waldorf Majorettes and Color Guard as well as the Clinton Golddiggers, the Mt. Rainier Majestics and the Berwyn Heights Bravados.

Representing the U.S. Postal Service will be Miss Zip, Patty Young. She will be driven by local carrier, Eugene C. Prowant, Jr. Other marchers will be Big Boy, the Markland Medieval Mercenary Militia, and the Charlestowne Crazies. This will be the last appearance of the Crazies in the Labor Day Parade. The Crazies have consistently won first place for their comic entry in the parade, but are disbanding because many of their members are moving from Greenbelt. The troupe includes Rich, Jimmy, Steve and Marty Colby; Jim, Marlee and Jimmy Frasier; Sherri Fulton and Carol and Rick Young. For their final bizarre act, look for a tall building and a "Fay" who looks more like a "Ray". Another clown group will be the Knights of the Klown Table.

Floats in the parade will be the Sligo Seventh-day Adventist Teens, Greenbelt Homes, Inc. "mortgage burning", C & P Telephone Co., and the Miss Greenbelt Pageant.

Antique cars will include a 1923 Model T Ford Roadster, a 1901 Olds and a 1915 Ford among others.

Among the honored guests will be Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, city councilmen Richard Castaldi, Richard Pilski, Thomas White, and Charles Schwan. Senator Paul Sarbanes and Congresswoman Gladys Spellman will join Maryland Comptroller Louis Goldstein, State Senator Edward Conroy and State Delegates Gerard Devlin, Leo Green, and David Gray Ross. Francis White, Frank Casula, Parris Glendening, and David Hartlove will represent the County Council. Guy Charron of the Washington Capitals Hockey Team will be presented by the Prince Georges Chamber of Commerce.

Monday also includes two events which many kids and grown-ups look forward to. These are Special Contests from 3-6 p.m. in front of the pool and the Salute to Americans at Work in the Center Mall from 2:30-4:30 p.m.

Old favorites to be held this year will include the Diaper Derby, Balloon Burst, Bubble Gum Burst and Jump Rope Race. A new contest to be held for the first time will be the Greased Pig Contest. The Greased Pig Contest will be open to the first 15 teens or adults who register. Registrations for all events will take place 15 minutes before each event. The greased 100 lb. pig will be in an enclosed area and the object of the contest is to see who can catch and hold the pig the longest. The contest will be restricted to those weighing less than 225 lbs.

The Fourth Annual Salute to Americans at Work will be in the Center Mall from 2:30-4:30 p.m. Violin Maker Willis Gault will have his tools and instruments to display. The Bike Pedaler's shop will give free rides on the Moped and show how to repair a 10 speed bike. C & P Telephone Company will demonstrate cable repair and splicing. The National Park Service will milk a cow. 4-H'ers will be making decorative wall plaques out of plaster of paris, modge podge, and ribbon. Welder John Abbott will demonstrate his trade. Jack Steiffer will be splicing tapes and will have amplifiers and speakers to show. Larry Craton will be repairing furniture, caning and rushing.

Carpenters will be making bird houses. Members from the Institute for Behavioral Research, Inc. will have charts and graphs showing how GHI residents saved energy through a conservation project conducted recently. A naturalist from Md. State Parks will display maps and talk about services in the parks. Greenbelter Gerry Gough will answer questions about Metro. And the community Theatre Assoc. will paint the kid's faces to look like Spiderman, clowns, or other favorite animal friends.

Repairing large motors will be demonstrated by Lincoln Technical Institute and repair of small motors, such as those found on skateboards, will be demonstrated by the National Technical School. Beekeeper Bill Pyles, from the University of Md., will have a beehive and Betty Will, from Hines Hatchery, will show chickens hatching and chicken cutting.

APB Studies Feasibility Of Retirement Village

by Sandra Barnes

Several months ago, the City Council listened to the tentative plans from architects representing the owners of Springhill Lake for an 800-unit retirement village. This "village" was envisioned as providing several types of housing for the elderly of different health levels as well as economic levels. Located near the State Roads Commission, the complex would include garden apartments, with communal dining facilities available but not essential; a 10-story high rise; sheltered housing for those who would be in need of assistance for meals and housekeeping; and a nursing home.

The city did not officially comment on the SHL plan, but sent the matter to its Advisory Planning Board for its advice.

APB has reached the following conclusions: 1) that there are three other elderly housing facilities in operation in the county with two more being planned, including one by the city of Greenbelt; (2) that the size of the facility is not consistant with the County Housing Assistance Plan; 3) that a facility of this size, added to the one the city will break ground for soon, would greatly increase the elderly population within the city; 4) that a large percentage of the city's housing stock is multi-family units and this development would further increase that percentage; and 5) that the site location bounded by the Beltway and Kenilworth Avenue makes it relatively inaccessible to shopping, churches and other activity centers except by vehicle. Thus its suitability for this type of development is also questioned.

Transitions are always difficult. Here it is back to school time, with the Labor Day Festival marking the Rites of Passage. Make sure that the kids have plenty of paper and pencils. They come in useful for making little airplanes to sail across the classroom and for drawing caricatures of teacher. A dictionary might also be handy, and, in our usual spirit of helpfulness, we offer a few definitions that might not be in your standard Funk & Wagnall.

Watergate: Dam at Greenbelt Lake
Citizens Band: Community orchestra
Peanut Gallery: Collection of Carter family pictures
Crescendo: Money found on street near fire house
Greenbelt Greenbelt: Soap opera about a local karate student

CITY NOTES

The general crew has been grading the North End School ballfield. The entire field will be graded to a new level and the play area staked out. Still remaining to be done is dressing up and resodding. A part of the crew has been continuing to paint traffic lines. A summertime crewman has been caring for the glass and aluminum. All pedestrian underpasses were cleaned and the crew spent a day and a half with the bulldozer and disc on the old landfill ballfield.

The building maintenance crew has been cleaning all municipal buildings and has begun preparations for the Labor Day festival, including building for the skateboard event.

The loadpacker that is in the shop for extensive engine repairs will not cost as much as first estimated as the factory is going to underwrite some of the cost due to faulty material in the engine.

ELECT SOMEONE WHO CARES, VOTE FOR PHILLIPS!

A VOTE FOR PHILLIPS IS A VOTE FOR:

* Responsive and more representative government based on area representation and direct election of the mayor at-large.
* Wiser spending programs and revenue sharing. Heavier taxing on future commercial development, offsetting the tax burden on Greenbelt residents. If the developers are going to strip our community, we should be well compensated for the problems they will cause.
* Programs benefiting the elderly on fixed incomes. Mini-bus transportation within Greenbelt for the elderly and disabled to make use of various activities. Increased city participation in cost-free elderly programs offered by the County.
* Demanding cooperation from the developers in well-planned, environmentally sound, development. Opposition to strip development.
* Encouraging citizens participation at council meetings and informing the public of Council policy through an official newsletter. Making more of an effort to get people registered to vote.
* Encouraging fund raising activities by the citizens of Greenbelt to offset the costs of short-term programs.
* Freshness on the City Council.

Robert B. Phillips, Jr. holds a degree in Government & Politics from the University of Md. He is a staff writer for Consumers Friend. His administrative ability has been proven through his involvement as Founder and Coordinator of the Asain Pacific Cultural Enrichment Society. But most of all, he is FRESH!

Bob cares about your views. Bob believes in representative government; a government that takes the time to represent your views.

On September 20th you will choose from among six candidates. Five will win. Only one has to lose. It's your choice.

Race For Mayor Seems Only Spark In Issueless Campaign

by Elaine Skolnik

The lack of issues and the small number of candidates in the upcoming City Council elections on September 20 appears to be the combination causing apathy among the citizenry. Virtually the only interesting aspect of the election so far appears to be the race for high vote. Traditionally the top vote getter is tapped for mayor.

Five incumbents–Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and councilmen Charles Schwan, Thomas X. White, Richard Castaldi and Richard Pilski – and one newcomer, Robert B. Phillips, Jr., are vying for the five council seats.

Some 2,661 Greenbelters are currently on the voter registration rolls, a drop of 12.8% over 1975 (3,051) and a 25% decrease over 1973 (3,568). While voter registration figures have been on the decline, Greenbelt's population between the years of 1971 to 1977 increased by about 7.2% – from 18,199 to 19,606.

The decline in registration since 1971 has occurred, in the main, at the Springhill Lake Princinct #8. Center School Precinct #3 and North End Precinct #6 have remained relatively stable.

According to predictions, fewer than half of those qualified to vote will trek to the polls on election day to cast their votes for five city council persons who will head the city government in the next two years. In 1975, 48% of the electorate turned out, in 1973 54% and in 1971 58%. These elections, except for some sparks in 1971, were relatively free of the fireworks that marked those of the 1960's, when zoning controversies were inflammatory issues.

In 1971 eight candidates took part in the council race, while in 1973 twelve candidates threw their hats into the ring. (There was an increase in registration at both Center and North End precincts during the latter election. Seven chose to run in 1975 and six are the current contenders.

New Registrations

City Clerk Gudrun Mills reports that there are 276 new registrants. Of these, approximately 220 registered by mail – a new procedure instituted by the present council.

Center Precinct #3, which includes new residents from Greenbriar, Glen Oaks and Windsor Green, currently has 1,176 registered voters, some 5.3% less than 1975. North End Precinct #6 has a total of 1,049, an 8% dip from 1975, and Springhill Lake Precinct #8 figures reveal 436 qualified voters, down 35% from 1975.

This decrease in registration can be attributed to more effective purging of the registration rolls as a result of the November 1976 Housing for the Elderly Referendum. At the time, flyers were sent to all residents. Those that were returned to the city clerk indicated that residents had moved.

ADULT EDUCATION

Registration for Fall classes sponsored by P.G. Public Schools will be held Thurs., Sept. 15, 7–9 p.m. High school equivalency preparation (G.E.D.), English for the foreign born (E.S.L.), and basic academic skill work (A.B.E.) will be available at two local centers this fall. Parkdale Senior High School will hold these classes Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7–9, and Greenbelt Junior High will hold them Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 11 a.m. – 2 p.m. Registration is held at the school at which the classes are to be conducted.

For further information call Toni Foster, 474–0347, after Labor Day.

Weidenfeld Holds Maryland Municipal League Posts

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld has been appointed to the Legislative Action Committee (LAC) of the Maryland Municipal League (MML). The MML represents all the cities and towns in Maryland. The LAC formulates, proposes, and lobbies for State legislation that is beneficial to municipalities. Weidenfeld, now a senior committee member, has been reappointed for the fourth consecutive year.

Weidenfeld, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the MML, recently attended a two–day Directors Workshop. At that workshop the Directors planned goals and policies for the coming year and set up procedures for long–range planning. Also at the workshop, a Classification of Cities Committee was appointed to consider classifying Maryland's cities according to the municipal services they provide to their residents. Such classification is thought to improve the chance for passage of legislation providing for State aid to municipalities. Weidenfeld was appointed by the president of the MML to serve on this committee also.
